Qualifications
Fluency in both official languages is not required but would be an asset.

Successful candidates must hold or be eligible for licensure in Ontario, and must have a Specialist Certificate in Medical Oncology from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or be eligible for certification, and fulfil the requirements for appointment to The Ottawa Hospital and University of Ottawa. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens or landed immigrants. Candidates, in addition to being certified in medical oncology, should preferably have a higher degree (Masters, PhD), or a specialist fellowship training.

We acknowledge, with respect, that the work of the Department of Medicine takes place on the unceded and unsurrendered traditional territories of the Algonquin nation.

The Department of Medicine is committed to upholding the values of equity, diversity, and inclusion in our living, learning and work environments. We know that diversity underpins excellence, and that we all share responsibility for creating an equitable, diverse and inclusive community.

We actively encourage applications from members of groups with historical and/or current barriers to equity, including, but not limited to:

- First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples, and all other Indigenous peoples;
- members of groups that commonly experience discrimination due to race, ancestry, colour, religion and/or spiritual beliefs, or place of origin;
- persons with visible and/or invisible (physical and/or mental) disabilities;
- persons who identify as women; and
- persons of marginalized sexual orientations, gender identities, and gender expressions.

We recognize that many of these identities intersect; as a result, equity, diversity and inclusion can be complex. We value the contributions that each person brings and are committed to ensuring full and equal participation for all in our Department.

The Department of Medicine understands that career paths vary. Legitimate career interruptions will in no way prejudice the assessment process and their impact will be carefully considered.
